VOL. XVI, No. 7. {SIXTEENTH YEAR} GLOUCESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, AUGUST 17, 1912. PRICE FIVE CENTS

The Annisquam Region

THE season is going on toward the finish quietly and successfully. Annisquam is pre-eminently a place of rest and quiet and to the large number to whom these are the pre-eminent essentials of summer life the place has a satisfying attraction.

The Brooks Stevens of Lowell are occupying the same cottage on the Ames place which has been their summer home for a number of years.

Oakes Ames and family of North Easton are at their summer cottage, Davis neck.

The Spencer Borden's of Fall River are at their Davis neck place.

At the afternoon tea at the Yacht Club house Saturday afternoon, Mrs. William M. Jelly and Mrs. Benjamin A. Smith served tea. They were assisted by Miss Pauline Smith, Miss Bessie Guyler and Miss Eleanor Bartlett. Astrellar Brothers orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Miss Elizabeth Capen of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Churchill of New Jersey are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Wise Wood.

Mrs. John Schafer and Mrs. William Nagle of the Overlook entertained seven of their friends at the Barnacle, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Samuel Gordon of the Brynmere gave a whist party the same afternoon to some of her friends. Col. Tompkins of Baltimore won the prize.

Mrs. Wilmot A. Reed of Gloucester entertained Mrs. Hadley and Mrs Hammond of Somerville and Mrs. Edward S. Griffin of Gloucester at tea at the Barnacle, Saturday.

On Saturday evening, August 24th, in the Village Hall at Annisquam, the Saturday Evening Girls' will repeat their successful folk dancing exhibition of last year, for the benefit of their summer camp at West Gloucester.

There will be a change of program with the addition of native songs in Italian and German. The dances will be given in costume, and will include characteristic dances of Ireland, Scotland, Spain, Italy, Sweden and Russia.

The young ladies are very proficient in their art, and those who saw their performance last year will remember the graceful, finished work. The tickets can be obtained at the Barnacle and at the hotels, at the small price of 50 and 75 cents. Remember the date; Saturday, August 24th, at 8.00 p. m.

Recent arrivals at the Grand View:—Mary L. Maxwell, Julia Miller, Norma Miller, Baltimore; F. E. Parker, Needham, Helen M. Kruger, Laura Fullerton, Philadelphia; E. L. Thornquist, Boston; Mrs. L. W. Horton, Melrose; Mrs. E. G. Babson, Arlington; C. S. Judkins, Leon Bates, Boston; Alice Morrison, R. Douglas Morrison, Mrs. John Morrison, Fall River; Arthur Kelly, Winchester; Agnes Arnoux, Charles Cooper, Brooklyn, N. Y.

On Tuesday, in the private launch of the Wellington family, a party of young people were motored from "Gate Lodge," Eastern Point, to the Barnacle. Here high tea was served with amusing little bunnies for place cards, and followed by a dance at the Yacht club.

The party was given by Mrs. H. W. Wellington of Boston, for her daughter.

Professor Barry McNutt was the winner of the prize at the whist given at the Barnacle, by Mrs. I. T. Cook of the Overlook.

Dr. Warren and family of Worcester are occupying the Brousden cottage, Nashua avenue.

Magnolia

AUGUST is speeding fast toward September. The two last weeks of the month have usually been crowded with social events and the coming fortnight will be no exception to the rule. Magnolia was never more crowded nor gayer.

A well known Cleveland party who have taken the apartments at Sea Vista cottage recently vacated by Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan are Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hanna, Jr., Miss Mercer, two children and maid.

Leroy S. Brown, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and Elroy G. Preston treasurer of the S. S. Pierce Co., spent a few days at the Oceanside this week.

The Rockport Shore

THIS has been the big week, the week of the battleship fleet, with all that implies, and Rockport's cup of happiness has been filled to overflowing. As the fleet steamed away yesterday leaving trails of big ribbony smoke athwart the horizon many were the sighs of regret and life again lapsed to the idyllic quietude which is the chief charm of this old seaport.

Warrant officer and Mrs. Warman, chief gunner Heims and wife and son Franklin of the U. S. S. Rhode Island are at the Granite Shore.

Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Graham of the U. S. S. Rhode Island are making their headquarters at the Granite Shore.

East Gloucester

THE season is going along at its full flush with demand perceptibly surpassing supply for rooms. More hotel accommodations are imperatively needed. The entire East Gloucestar section is fast being devoted to summer resort purposes and bids fair in the next fifteen years to be the most populous and valuable part of the North Shore and this statement is made advisably with statistics of growth all along the line before the writer. A once large fishing packing house on East Main street is now conducting a prosperous business as a garage and more and more the summer demand reaches out and claims for its own purposes upland and wharfage, building and ground, for its uses. Who even walks may not fail to read the signs.

J. H. Ordway of Jamaica Plain who is making a vacation stay at the Harbor View, is one of the tennis experts of the summer colony.

A. Caroline Wagner and Christabel Thompson are former patrons returning to the Harbor View for an end of the season stay.

A pleasant social event at the Harbor View Tuesday evening and somewhat of a novelty was a book party, the participants being dressed in a manner to represent the title of the works of leading authors. Some ninety-five were thus attired. No end of amusement coupled with acumen in determining the intention of the wearer was afforded.

Miss Victoria G. Peacock accomanied by her nephew, John G. Hill of Washington has joined the representation from that city who make the Harbor View their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke Fitzgerald of Chicago are spending a few weeks at the Harbor View. Mrs. Fitzgerald is accounted the handsomest woman at East Gloucester this season.

W. T. Wall of Montreal has rejoined his family at the Harbor View.

Mrs. Thomas Balling Mrs. Adolf Osterloh of Richmond, Va., are among the registrations.

Mrs. H. H. Kennedy and Miss Anna Kennedy of Philadelphia are spending the month at the Harbor View.

Mrs. H. R. Williams, Mrs. M. L. Shoemaker of Philadelphia, Mrs. E. A. Mechlin of Washington are visiting their sister, Miss Lelia Mechlin at "Top Gallant" cottage.

Miss Charlotte B. Munroe of Washington has joined Mrs. Speel and her daughter, Miss Hitchcock, at the Rockaway.

Clara F. Smith of Providence is at the Rockaway for an August stay.

Ralph H. Muir of Maplewood, N. J., has joined his wife and daughter at the Rockaway.

Miss Helen M. Levin of Beverly, N. J., and Charles L. Brand, U. S. N., have joined Mr. Brand's mother at the Rockaway for an end of the season stay.

Mrs. Mary J. Clark and son, Charles P. Clark, of Pawtucket, R. I., are making an extended stay at the Rockaway.

Mrs. A. M. Diserens of Cincinnati has joined her daughter, Miss Alma Diserens at the Rockaway for the rest of the season.

Miss A. M. Bond and the Misses Georgie and Virginia Goodwin of Lynchburg are among a party from the old Dominion at the Rockaway.

Miss Mary C. Fraser of Providence and sister, Mrs. Samuel McIntosh of Southbridge have been registered at the Rockaway since July 1st.

"News From The Fleet"

The artist, Mr. Herman W. Spooner, has caught two old Gloucester fishermen and the picture is that of a pair of veterans who have spent the greater part of their lives at sea in quest of the finny tribe, perusing the columns of a local paper to gather information of the whereabouts and "doin's" of the fishing fleet. Though long "hauled up" and past their capacity for further service on a fishing schooner, they still follow the fortunes of the fleet with the greatest interest.

"News from the Fleet" always interests all Gloucester, whose very life is bound up in its argosies of fishing clippers with their finny freight, and none more so than these two old worthies who glean anxiously the tidings regarding the catches or "prospects" of catches.

It is what the artists call a genre picture, that is something taken from everyday life. Evidently from the expression on the face of the listener the news is good news. Long may the "News from the Fleet" of Gloucester and other fishing craft be good news, for none better deserve success than the toilers of the sea who man the New England fishing craft.

North Shore Society Women Patronesses of Entertainment by Miss Dunaway at Hawthorne Inn Casino

Under the patronage of well known North Shore society women, Miss Hetty Jane Dunaway, reader and entertainer, will present "A Winsome Widow," (story) adapted from "The Lady of the Decoration," in character costume, to musical accompaniment, at Hawthorne Inn Casino, on Thursday evening, August 22d, at 8.15, for benefit of Gloucester Fishermen's Institute, assisted by Mabel Vann, pianiste, and Mary Shackford, violinist.

This story is an original arrangement of Miss Dunaway's and is a real Lyceum novelty. She also introduces spoken song, character sketches and negro dialect, which makes the whole very entertaining and versatile. She is a charming Southern girl from Arkansas and has read with success in every State in the Union and deserves all the nice things that have been said of her.

This benefit is given for a worthy cause and deserves a most generous patronage.

The patronesses are: Mrs. John Clay, Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mrs. J. Murray Kay, Mrs. John Greenough, Mrs. W. A. Taft, Mrs. J. S. Fassett, Mrs. S. A. Raymond, Mrs. A. Wilder Pollard, Mrs. Winthrop Sargent.

The annual meeting of the Magnolia Improvement Society was held Tuesday evening in the Library hall and brought out one of the largest attendances in years, many of the summer colony being in evidence. These officers were elected: Charles W. Jones, president; Otis Weld Richardson, treasurer; Jonathan May, secretary. These with the following comprise the Executive board: Samuel M. Kennard, J. Harrington Walker, Horace B. Stanton and Lafayette M. Hunt.

Remarks were made by Col. William R. Nelson and others and it was voted to subscribe a fund for the beautification of various places, fixing up the highways and planting trees in various parts of the village. Several speakers alluded to the unsatisfactory manner and even neglect of the Gloucester municipal council toward the village and S. M. Kennard, Col. C. R. Nelson and Frank S. Chick were appointed a committee to interview the municipal authorities relation to this matter.

Society is looking eagerly forward to the horse show which is scheduled for Wednesday, August 28th on Crescent beach and which promises to eclipse all other events of similar character in entries and social aspects. Miss Eleonora Sears and others of the North Shore society set will be in attendance and a fine all around exhibition of the cream of the North shore stables exhibited by the cleverest amateurs of the locality is promised.

The social season was never such a success as this year. The regular Wednesday and Saturday evenings dances have proved so popular and well attended that the management of the Oceanside has set aside three nights each week for the diversion, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, winding up with the big ball of the season on Saturday night, August 31, when the great dining hall, beautifully decorated will be used for this annual event, looked forward to by the entire North Shore.

There are no better diving or swimming facilities anywhere on the Cape.

The lecture will be illustrated by one of the leading violinists of Boston, who will give selections showing the methods characteristic of the great violin players of the past 250 years. Mr. Prescott has given years to the study of the history of the violin and the lives of the great violinists. Booker T. Washington has this to say of Miss Dorsey: "Miss Dorsey to my mind, has gotten closer to the every day life of my people and represents them more closely and faithfully than any one I have ever heard recite."

Miss Dorsey has appeared in the homes of the foremost people of this country and Europe and her renditions of Southern life have received the highest commendation from the press and public, but this excerpt from Booker T. THEY KNOW NOT HARBORS

The ships now in the harbor lie asleep
And have forgot how sea wind puffs the sails
There cast upon the decks. Yonder the deep
Lies brooding and the lost gull weakly flails.

The calm with listless wing, that fain would be
Wet with the spindrift of a scudding prow,
He sickens, pale, Odysseus of the sea,
Shaped for the storm o'er windless waters now.

So have I fallen in thine arms asleep
And my soul sickens and I restless lie
Adventure struck and hungry for the sweep
Of rythmic oars and islands drifting by.

I waken let me go! It is not pride!
Bright Lucifer into the darkness hurled
Was happier than angels quiet eyed,
God in me urges; yonder glooms the world.

The sailor seeks the haven but a day,
His life spills on the sea; then sweeter sleep
And dearer thou for yearnings far away;
They know not harbors who know not the deep.

—Christian Gauss in Scribner's.

Every person operating a motor vehicle shall bring the vehicle and the motor propelling it immediately to a stop when approaching a horse or other draft animal being led, ridden or driven, if such animal appears to be frightened and if the person in charge thereof shall signal so to do; and, if travelling in the opposite direction to that in which such animal is proceeding, said vehicle shall remain stationary so long as may be reasonable to allow such horse or animal to pass; or, if travelling in the same direction, the person operating shall use reasonable caution in thereafter passing such horse or other animal. In approaching or passing a car of a street railway which has been stopped to allow passengers to alight or embark, the operator of every motor vehicle shall slow down and if it be necessary for the safety of the public he shall bring said vehicle to a full stop. Upon approaching a pedestrian who is upon the travelled part of any way and not upon a sidewalk, or where the operator's view is obstructed either upon approaching an intersecting way or a curve or corner in a way, every person operating a motor vehicle shall slow down and give a timely signal with his bell, horn or other device for signalling:

Provided, that in the thickly settled parts of a city or town no bell, horn or other device for signalling shall be sounded so as to make a harsh, objectionable or unreasonable noise, except in the case of fire and police department vehicles and ambulances; and provided, further, that no operator of any motor vehicle shall at any time permit any unreasonable amount of smoke to escape from said motor vehicle, nor shall said operator at any time permit said motor vehicle to make any unnecessary noise, by cutting out the muffler, or otherwise.

The driver of any motor vehicle on any highway approaching a crossing of ways, shall slow down and keep to the right of the intersection of the centres of both ways, when turning to the right, and shall pass to the right of the intersection of the centres of said ways before turning to the left.
